ABOUT

Jason Hawkins, president of the firm, has over 20 years of extensive and complex experience as a Utah commercial litigation lawyer. He has handled business and commercial litigation cases involving a wide variety of civil litigation claims, including breach of contract, fraud, intellectual property, real property, commercial torts, and professional liability claims, among others.

Jason has represented clients in state and federal courts, including trials, arbitrations, temporary restraining orders, injunctions, actions for declaratory relief, appeals, and settlements. His clients range from individuals to small and medium-sized businesses, large corporations, and governmental entities.

As part of his commercial litigation practice, Jason recently represented a commercial general contractor and its president in a five-week jury trial involving a series of contractual and commercial claims asserted by a competitor. His clients were held not liable under each of the claims brought by the competitor, and the jury awarded an excess of $13 million, including $5 million in punitive damages.

Jason also represented hundreds of the victims of the 2012 Wood Hollow Fire in Central Utah (which destroyed dozens of homes, recreational properties, agricultural businesses, and more), recovering significant amounts on behalf of his clients. In addition to his litigation practice, Jason counsels individuals and business entities in corporate, real estate, and contract law.
